lives again," but times became less prosperous and their wages were reduced, enforcing greater economy in living. Again and again the reduction came until everything was swept from their tables but the plainest food and that was left in quantities insufficient to sustain vigorous life. The faces of father, mother and children bore the impress of the skeleton touch of famine. While in this condition they are notified of another reduction of ten per cent in their means of living and they at once exclaim "we cannot possibly live upon less, our wives and children are now in rags and are starving," the answer comes, "we have the 'abstract' right to employ cheaper labor, you must give up your places to single men who have no families to starve." The right of a railroad company—or any other employer—which is making from six to ten per cent upon double the amount of money actually invested in their business, to do this, must be very "abstract."

A Stewart or a Vanderbilt may have an abstract right to turn his back upon a starving mendicant at his door, but he will not escape the just condemnation of the humane for so doing. We are informed that a large number of the employees of the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania railroads are actually earning not more than twenty-five cents a day. Surely justice would suggest the reduction or absolute suspension of all dividends to stockholders before any further lowering of wages should be the thought of.

These views can be expressed without in any way attempting to justify the outrageous acts of the mobs that have been blocking up the channels of trade throughout the whole country, and destroying life and property in a dozen great cities. The punishment of the men engaged in this work of destruction should be swift and severe. Such a method of redressing grievances is not only unlawful, but in every instance ineffective, and no class of persons witness such lawless conduct with greater repugnance than the true friends of the working people.

T. C. COLLEGE

The building committee of the college have let the contract for the delivery upon the grounds of sufficient stone for the foundation of the building, the work to be done within a month. The specifications for the building have not yet been received from President Tenney, as soon as they come to hand the excavation for the basement will be completed and the stone work begun.

We have been requested to publish the conditions upon which the donations of land have been made by the Colorado Springs Company to Colorado College. They are as follows:—The first donation of the thirty-two acres lying immediately west of Cascade Avenue, and opposite University Square, and extending to the railroad, upon which the first building is now being erected. The conditions of this gift are the payment of one dollar and the further consideration that the premises described and intended to be conveyed, shall be used and occupied by the party of the second part, its successors and legal representatives, as a site for Colorado College, and for the erection thereon of college buildings, and for homes for the officers and professors of such college, and all proper and suitable buildings, erections, and improvements for the use and accommodation of such college, with suitable grounds therefor, the said premises being devoted to educational purposes by and under the supervision of the said college, and no other purpose.

The college or university square was decided as a part of a donation to the party of the second part for educational purposes and to aid in funding and maintaining an institution of learning in Colorado Springs, and the said party of the second part finding it to erect a stone building thereon for school purposes, it being the intention that the income in case said premises or any part thereof shall be improved or the available in case of sale of any part thereof, to be applied to the maintaining of instruction in said college by permanent endowment or otherwise.

It is the intention of the Trustees to erect upon the latter ground a hall for the female department of the institution.

A. A. A.

The remarkable success met with in growing alfalfa in California should lead our ranchmen to give it a thorough trial here. The only green spots in southern California are said to be the alfalfa fields, which are doing well in spite of the drought. The Pacific Ruralist says that the farmers along the Sacramento River have already cut two crops of hay averaging from one and a half to two tons per acre at each cutting. In some places four crops will be cut. The net profit per acre is said to reach $30 at least. Any of the lands in the first or second bottoms of the Monument or Fountain would grow luxuriant crops of this grass with out irrigation, at least after the first season. Thousands of tons could be raised on land now idle, and with it as winter food we could largely lay to our stock of cattle and sheep.

THE FOREIGN WAR.

The past week has witnessed further successes of the Russians in European Turkey. The formidable Balkan Range was cleared at a bound by sixty thousand Muscovite troops, and Adrianople is endangered thereby. From present appearances all the fortified places in the famous quadrilateral will have to be abandoned by the Turks, and their defensive operations confined to the country contiguous to Constantinople. Meanwhile England, Austria, and Hungary are rapidly becoming more hostile, and the fleet of the ocean is being concentrated where it will do the most good in case of a general war.

WATER.

We learn that Major McAlister has proposed to furnish the city with a free supply of pure mountain water in pipes under pressure. The capital to be furnished and the work done by himself, the city to pay an annual rental therefor. We do not now know the details of the proposition.

NEW LOAN.

Subscriptions amounting to nearly seventy-five million dollars have been made to the new four per cent loan. This is indicative of two things: the good credit of the government and the abundance of money.

MINING MATTERS.

The news from all the mining centres of Colorado is very satisfactory. Good lodes are being everywhere discovered, and capital is being invested with a fair degree of activity.

The Democratic convention of Ohio met at Columbus on Wednesday, with 735 delegates present. R. M. Bissop was nominated for Governor on the 6th day. The usual resolutions were adopted.

Gov. Fairbank and party were on their way to California when the news of the riots in Pennsylvania reached them, and the Governor immediately started homeward. The balance of the party returned to Denver, where they now are.

Some prominent residents in Denver gave a free excursion to Morrison on Thursday, for the benefit of invalid women, children, and men who were not able to take such an excursion themselves on account of the expense. A fine picnic dinner was also given to the party at Morrison by the liberal citizens of the capital.

For Patricia A. McGee, of Las Animas County, died at the American House in Denver on Sunday morning. He was a prominent Democrat, and had much influence among party associates in the southern part of the State. He died quite suddenly, and an inquest was held, the verdict being, "death from acute diarrhoea, induced by an excessive use of whisky."

The riot in this city presents a busy scene upon the arrival of every passenger train. Not a train comes in but it carries its quota of visitors to this place and Yanitou.

Services at the Baptist church to-morrow morning and evening. Sunday school at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. In the evening there will be a lecture on "The Great Strike."

The report of the treasurer of the society shows that the total receipts at the Fourth of July celebration in this city were $228.75, expenses $159.37, leaving a net profit to the society of $69.38.

In the dining room of the J. S. Restaurant Mr. Pascoe was using a number of very fine and attractive pictures, upon which the guests can fast their eyes when not engaged in the grosser pleasure of eating their stomachs on the treasures of the cuisine.

Preaching at the Congregational church to-morrow morning by the pastor, Subject, "My Kingdom Come." Short sermon to children in the evening. There will be a singing, prayer meeting, and missionary concert connected. A cordial welcome to strangers.

Travellers who may have the misfortune to break their wagons are directed to the shop of Mr. G. J. South, located at the foot of Jefferson Street, east of Monument square, where they can have repairs made in a manner that is guaranteed to give satisfaction. Tongues and axles are ways on hand, and cracked axles or cast.

At the Prowersian Military Academy, last Monday evening, the company was out through the city on a drill. The drill was very well executed, and the company was very well drilled. The drill was very well executed, and the company was very well drilled.

During the first week in August Dr. C. Tenney is expected to go on a camping tour in the mountains with his wife and daughter and some friends. They will go to "Win Lake and to Bonanza Pass, and return by way of the Grand Cañon of the Arkansas. A wagon may require Dr. Tenney's services as a driver, as he is a very good driver, and is as soon as convenient.

The City Council met on Wednesday evening as a Board of Education. On one case was presented for consideration, which was an order on the city for the assessment of the city for the year 1877. The assessment was $100,000, and the city was to pay $100,000.

Street Supervisor Lewis has been grading the street between the Monument and the Fountain. The street is now in good condition, and the city is very well served. The street is now in good condition, and the city is very well served.

Some victims who have not yet had the attack of fever which they are destined to experience, have been visiting houses where they knew on a day were at home and then making insulting speeches when detected in their efforts to get an entrance. Not so much for the protection of the scoundrels as to save the actors from the disgrace of a defeat. The young men are now in a state of excitement, and are now in a state of excitement.

Yesterday afternoon just as the coach from Manitou was crawling up to the depot to discharge its load of passengers, one of the worst horses became frightened at an unknown spring forward and made the leaders jump, which started one of the wet and slippery lines from the jaws of the driver. Before the frightened horse could be secured, the team had turned suddenly and upset the coach. A boy from New Braunfels and Mr. Dwyer of this city were the only ones in the coach. The boy was not much hurt, and went on to Denver; Mr. Dwyer had his shoulder dislocated by being against the depot post, but was entirely comfortable and able to get home.

The coach was pretty badly damaged in front. It was entirely accident, and no blame can be attached to the driver or anyone else. The horse was over in less than a minute; the horses were jumping before they had run a step. A very serious accident had occurred on the Northwestern Stage Company's line, and Mr. Nicolai regretted exceedingly.

The pay-car on the Denver and Rio Grande Railway went out Tuesday morning.

The annual conference of the M. E. Church of Colorado will meet in Denver next Wednesday.

The gross earnings of the Denver and Rio Grande Railway for the week ending July 21, 1877, were $19,038.42.

A post-office has been established at Turkey Creek, in this county, and Mrs. A. M. Sprague appointed postmistress.

The Douglas County News last week printed a supplement containing the names of the officers of the Co. W. 1st, delivered at Meade's Kiowa.

Rev. E. Riccardi, of Trinidad, will preach at the M. E. church to-morrow morning and evening. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present.

The Atkinson, Locke and Santa Fe Company are revising their time card and expect to make a close connection with the Denver and Rio Grande at Meade after August 1.

Mr. Morris has received some of the machinery used in his jewelry business and a few good goods. The balance of a stock and the show cases for displaying it are on the road hither.

The statement in last week's issue that no horses were taken from the town by the parties who raised a was a mistake. Mr. Cowe, of Cowe & Co., lost a horse valued at $250.—Silver Herald.

Lovers of the weed will rejoice to learn that Mr. C. Stockbridge has received a lot of Havana cigars, which he is retailing at 5 cents. He offers a sample to a who may care to try the new to come cigars which he is selling at a price.

A paragraph in last week's paper directed to Mr. W. B. Busby's horse, and demands correction. The horse, we are in error, is not in the habit of running off, but on this occasion one of the men broke, and it was such a good opportunity that he could not resist the temptation to surprise the driver.

Vessels Gunne and Harrison came in from the Gulf of Mexico, where they had been attending court. Their trip was very successful, and they were very well received. The trip was very successful, and they were very well received.

A correspondent of the Denver Tribune has visited G. W. Smith's cheese factory in the Divide, in El Paso County. He says the consumption of milk in making cheese has grown from one ton a day last year to two and a half tons a day this year. The superintendent, an Ohio cheese maker, says Colorado milk is superior to Ohio milk for making cheese.

The number of arrivals at the Lake House for the week ending July 20 was 68, while the number of visitors since the opening of the house this season, 201. The house is now in good order, and the entire situation, so that tourists can ride on horse back, or by way of the city to the summit of the peak without any trouble whatever, and can find good accommodations at the house at Lake Voreline.

The first number of the San Juan Current has come to hand. It is a very interesting paper, and is very well received. The paper is very interesting, and is very well received.

Mr. W. Woods and Mrs. J. Reynolds, who are a beautiful young couple, are now in the city. They are very well received, and are very well received.

The second edition of the "Rocky Mountain Tourist" has been accepted by the city. The paper is very well received, and is very well received.

The opening dinner served at the Adams house last Monday was a very elegant affair. The viands were the best in the market, and the service was very excellent. The dinner was very excellent, and the service was very excellent.

Mrs. C. B. Partridge, who is a very well known person, is now in the city. She is very well received, and is very well received.

Vessels, Peery, Maxwell, and Snice have returned from their business tour in the mountains. They are very well received, and are very well received.

Mr. Walter Spencer, editor of the Douglas County News, has been in the city. He is very well received, and is very well received.

Mr. C. A. Brown, editor of the El Paso County News, has been in the city. He is very well received, and is very well received.

Mr. C. V. Riley returned from his visit to the northern part of the State this week, and with the aid of his party went up to the ranch of a friend in the Divide.

Judge McFerran came down as far as his mine in the Forestay Gulch, ten miles west of Forestay. He is engaged in tunneling to cut the vein at greater depth, and the indications of value are very satisfactory.

A telegraph office has been opened at Wagon Creek.

Revenge is sweet. Mr. William Lennox is now even.

Anyone in want of money may be accommodated on easy terms by consulting Mr. C. E. Wesley, in the Co. on 300.

Every mechanic in Colorado Springs is now busy at fair wages, and the prospect is good for plenty of work during the balance of the summer and fall.

Our showers occur only just after noon. They are very refreshing and enliven the town to disperse with a sparkling car. Yesterday's shower was a little late.

There will be a grand given next Friday evening, August 3, at the Military Hall, by the Colorado Springs Quacres Band. Tickets for sale at the hall and elsewhere.

Mr. Commissioner Carut is now busy at fair wages, and the prospect is good for plenty of work during the balance of the summer and fall.

Mr. J. L. Martin sold his wool through Gregg Brothers, commission merchants in Philadelphia. The price obtained was 22 cents per pound, considerably more than anyone has received for his wool so far.

The Literary Reception last evening was not so well attended as it deserved to be. The weather was very stormy, and the exercises were not so good as we were kept away by duties in the office.

A week ago last night the guests at the Rock House, in the Garden of the Gods, were serenaded by the "College Band," and the music was very good. The serenaders desire to express their thanks.

The GAZETTE acknowledges with pleasure the receipt of a complimentary ticket to the Seventh Annual Fair to be held at Kansas City, from September 17 to 22, inclusive. The Secretary, Mr. D. A. is the gentleman who conferred the honor, and to whom thanks are hereby tendered. The premiums offered by the Fair Association amount to $20,000.

A man who is not more than two years old, at the time of the last term, and who gave satisfactory proof of having devoted a reasonable amount of time to study during vacation as a preparation for examination, and who have not been examined, will have an opportunity to enter an examination on Friday, August 31, at the school house.

It is much to be regretted that in the way of beautiful surroundings and scenery of climate this city is recognized by residents as a desirable place to visit. But this is not the only particular in which the place is favored. It is fortunate enough to have mercantile establishments, which are not surpassed in the matter of selection of goods and artistic arrangement in the market of a gentleman's clothing by any city East or West. A person's inspection of the resplendent goods at the store of the gentleman's clothing store, in the Brick Block on Jefferson Street, will convince any gentleman that he has never seen a better stock anywhere. These goods are the most substantial to be obtained, and were purchased from one of the largest importing houses in Philadelphia. They are displayed in beautiful variety and quantities to suit a patron. Mr. Stearns' prices for making up dress and business suits are lower than can be obtained in Denver or Eastern cities, and the fit and finish do not give satisfaction he does not ask customers to keep the clothes. Citizens will make money and constant their own interests by patronizing home industry, and getting their apparel from resident tailors.

PERSONAL.

Subt. W. W. Jorst was in the city Tuesday.

Mr. David Shie returned from the mines on Wednesday.

Mr. E. W. Gid was in the city to the store every day, but still continues weak.

Mrs. C. B. Partridge, who is a very well known person, is now in the city. She is very well received, and is very well received.

Vessels, Peery, Maxwell, and Snice have returned from their business tour in the mountains. They are very well received, and are very well received.

Judge McFerran came down as far as his mine in the Forestay Gulch, ten miles west of Forestay. He is engaged in tunneling to cut the vein at greater depth, and the indications of value are very satisfactory.

A PLEASANT HOME.

About one mile south of the post-office, on the Cañon City road and the road leading to Cheyenne Cañon, is situated the residence of Mr. William Jones, a very well known person. Only about two years ago Mr. Jones purchased the land on account of its favorable location and the beauty of the spot, and immediately proceeded to build a home, and a home it is in every sense of the word. It is a beautiful home, and is very well received. The house is very well received, and is very well received.

To a most everybody the home-life is the most important of life. It is the home that gives life its meaning and its joy. It is the home that gives life its meaning and its joy. It is the home that gives life its meaning and its joy. It is the home that gives life its meaning and its joy.

ROUND ABOUT THE STATE.

The Malta Smelting Works have closed down for the present.

Late City will be a money-order office of the second class after the 1st of October.

The Southern Colorado Baptist Association will meet at La Veta on the 17th of August.

Seventy-two and a half car-loads of freight were shipped from South Pueblo on Tuesday week.

S. Benton Schenck, of Brooklyn, has been appointed a commissioner of deeds for the State of Colorado.

During the month of June the wool shipments from different points in Colorado amounted to 1,368,826 pounds.

The Fairplay Sentinel says twenty tons of ore, as it came from the Do-y Vanen Mine, sold at the rate of $400 to the ton.

The Ouray Times informs us that a tri-weekly mail service is expected to be in operation at that place by the first of August.

The La Plata Miner says that the hot springs in Las Animas Valley are highly appreciated by visitors who have seen and tried them.

The Chieftain says even A. A. Adams is removing his business from South Pueblo to Garland City, where it will be in service as a ware house.

Close connections with the Denver and Rio Grande and Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Roads will be made at Pueblo on and after August 1. So says President Nickerson, of the latter road.

It is gratifying to learn that the placer mining interests through the counties of Park, Lake, and Summit are in a very flourishing condition, and that the yield in dust for the season will be much larger than for several years past.—Fairplay Sentinel.

Somebody tried to burn the town of La Veta on Monday night week, but D. D. Ryan and John W. Ham, who passed by on their way home from a dance at the place at that time, discovered the fire and put it out before it had made any great headway.

Now it is the custom here that forces itself into notice. Several have been seen of late in this vicinity, and John Brown is one of the most noted. He is a hunter, and he will keep an eye open for these fellows.—Fairplay Express.

Wagon Creek, a town which is the present terminus of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, consists of thirty business houses, and was built entirely in the days. Besides these, over one hundred frame school houses have been erected near the town.

About six weeks since the owners of the Vista Mines above Canon City sent one of their "mules" off as sample, and last week closed a contract with the latter for one thousand tons to be shipped to New York, obtaining a price that will be highly remunerative to the operators.—Denver Times.

The correspondent of the St. Louis Globe Democrat says: "Let me advise a tourist and sight-seer to take the Rio Grande Road if it is the case to see the finest scenery in Colorado." It is one of comfort and safety, managed by able and efficient officers, who also they can make it pleasant for travelers.

The brick-roasting process at Yule's is reported to be as successful as ever. Three sheds have been completed, and a fourth one is under way, wherein the ore bricks are to be made and dried. Two additional heating pits have been put in at the works, making six pits in all.—Routa Index.

Colorado coal mines yielded in 1876 nearly 300,000 tons of coal, worth about $750,000 at the mines. This amount will be increased, with each succeeding year, as the use of coal is becoming much more general for domestic, mining, milling, and refining purposes in that region.—Coal Trade Journal.

The farmers of Nine Mile are harvesting their wheat and oats this week. We understand these crops will turn out remarkably well. Mr. Seacrest, who has farmed in Missouri, says he has the best wheat this year he ever raised. It is estimated that it will thresh 40 bushels per acre. Haymaking is also under way in various parts of the county.—Las Animas Leader.

Mr. C. P. Harrison, who came over the range from Lake last Saturday, discovered a burro near the head of Benson Creek, about a mile off the trail, in the snow and apparently lost. Near where the burro was found a sheep gun killed with snow, and a horse near by shows the rind below the surface. A light feet was found near the burro, and some snow on the snow and was crowded in the rind.—Ouray Times.

The new town of Harrisonville, in Lake County, is the scene of active operations. The St. Louis Mining Co. are busily engaged in erecting Smelting Works, to have a capacity of 20 tons per day. The site of the works has been selected with a view of having the ore as it is possible, and in this Mr. Meyer, the resident Superintendent, has shown great foresight. The President of the Company, Mr. Harrison, is on the ground and is well pleased with the progress and growth of the town and company he represents.—Fairplay Sentinel.

The Index has the following in regard to the rich find at Rosita: "Last Monday evening Mr. Bassica, whose good fortune in striking a rich deposit of silver-bearing ore on Tynda Hill, we have heretofore related, recorded, brought to town some of the rock-quartz and spar from this deposit, the main, which were sparkling with free gold, and of course immense value. The ore was first struck about two feet below the surface in the somewhat irregular shaft. It is found in little pockets, the extent of which cannot be estimated. This is the first gold ever found in this district, and of course has excited a great deal of interest, among miners, and sent prospectors flying to Tynda Hill next morning.

A SLANDERER.

To the Editor of the Gazette:—

A good deal has been said, and justly, in reference to the misrepresentations of an animalizer of our country, who is still prowling around. But whether present or absent, the baseness of his aspirations cannot be too indignantly put to rest. The confusion of the city gent is a mere avenue of the scold, and even the News man does not quite reach his case.

Who steals my purse steals trash; 'Twas mine, 'tis his, and has been mine, 'tis his, but he who fishes from my good name steals that which no one can give him, But makes me poor indeed.

But he is no ordinary thief, this scoundrel. No, the James Brothers, who merely steal a bank, not the Texas cattle-thieves, who steal the cattle and transfer them to their mountain fastnesses, can compare with this freebooter on the high plains; for he has swooped out a whole community at a case and left its population homeless.

We do not, however, grudge him the facility he so much craves of his section.

We envy not the fabled climate that lies in longitude of less indulgent skies.

We will take Colorado and the grass-lands, giving the correspondent the benefit of the Mexican fly, army worms, chinch bugs, potato bugs, mus, &c., &c., excessive rain and irremediable drought, and Russian cold and fe. disease; reserving the radiant sunrise, the red-scented sunset, and the glorious moonlight bending iris coiling upon the moving caravans of cloud; the inspiring air and the millions of bulion only veiled from sight in those near mountains, a key to whose strong storehouse shall yet be found, where the deer, the bear, the elk, the cougar roam; where screams the eagle, perched with outspread wing above his eyrie, or advancing upon the clouds, or sweeping with repeating circles as he explores the crags among the cloud-environed summits, the home of the storms.

It is true the Italian of our skies is sometimes torn into coils, and the mountain zephyrs send a thunderous upon us, throwing sand in our eyes and being us with hail, snow, rain, or with forced lightning, but just go into the noles he so acutely describes, and see the holes in after us. The man who has no music in his soul is fit for treachery, stratagem, and spoliage, and would do well to remain in the snare of the A legians.

AN ARATE RANCHMAN.

LYNCHING AT LA VETA.

A dispatch from La Veta, dated last Tuesday, says:—

The jail guard at this place was overpowered last night by a vigilance committee, and a man named Gonzales, the murderer of the Browns, taken from custody and lynched to a telegraph pole in the public square. The murder, which occurred near this place in November last, was one of the most brutal recorded in the annals of crime, an aged couple being the victims and money the incentive. Gonzales went to the house of the unfortunate family and asked to stay over night, and killed Mr. Brown while he was caring for his wife. Returning to the house the wretched old man, his wife and their daughter, Mrs. Rice, for fear of obtaining the thirty sum of four dollars for his "butchery," the murderer escaped to New Mexico, but was hunted down by detectives and brought back here for trial, and upon a preliminary examination was positively identified by Mrs. Rice, who, pointing to Gonzales, said: "You are the man who murdered my father and mother and nearly killed me." He was a so suspected of several other murders. The lynching took place at 11 p. m. About seventy-five men participated. They were quiet and orderly but determined.

ON TO THE UNCOMPAEGRE.

Two surveying parties of about a dozen men each and three four-mule teams to each party, will start in a few days to survey the line of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Road from the Grand Cañon up the Arkansas to South Arkansas, thence by the best and most feasible route to the Gunnison and on to the Uncompaegre. The parties will be in command of those veteran civil engineers, Messrs. W. R. Morley and J. E. Brown, and they expect to be a summer on the route and be able to tell by winter whether a road can be built, and what the probable cost will be. President Nickerson is here, and while he makes no bow about what the company intend doing, it is well understood that the "banana line" means business.—Pueblo Chieftain.

GOOD WORDS.

L. R. Elliott a member of the excursion party from Manhattan, Kansas, wrote to the North Topeka Times: "Our company found very courteous treatment, not only from railroad officials and employees, but also from others with whom we have come in contact; and considering that the party was not an eclectic, a scientific, or a commercial party, we feel that really these people of Colorado are good at the core. Colorado Springs is handsome, and we set with trees, oaks very some-time, and must certainly be a pleasant dwelling place. The usual comforting element of all the mountain cities is here abundant. I speak of the rippling rills of cool water that course along each side of a most every street."
